Ad Text Irma Gonzalez was one of six women inducted into the San Diego County Women's Hall of Fame earlier this month. This is a huge step for a latino woman in the US. She says: "Diversity on the bench is so important because the people that come to court come from all different walks of life, different ethnic backgrounds, different religious backgrounds."
However, if it's a sign of diversity, this is a very weak sign. Just think, we are indigenous inhabitants of this land and we were cut off all privileges since gabachos came and stole our land. So, it took almost 500 years for our woman to reach a prestigious position in the government that is not really caring about us! Whether there are latinos or not, authorities will continue to deport us from our indigenous land!
